Analysis of the Acts and Amendments on November 2

On the general election ballot Tuesday, November 2, there will be two local proposals and seven state-wide measures on which the people must say yes or no.

The Star customarily discusses all Initiative & Referendum matters in advance of the general election, hoping to clarify the legal language in which the titles are couched. Usually we express our own opinion, too — but you can take it or leave it.

The two local proposals in Hempstead county are:

ROAD TAX, and

ONE-MILL TAX FOR COUNTY LIBRARY

You will probably want to vote FOR both of these.

Regarding the seven state-wide measures, I find the ballot titles in several cases are confusing or even misleading. But after checking with attorneys, insurance agencies and others, I believe the following is a true statement of the purposes of the several bills — and our editorial opinion on them is a reasonable conclusion in the public interest:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT No. 39 (Registration of Voters Amendment)

This proposes an amendment to the state constitution to give the legislature power to set up a registration system for voters. It is intended for use in the event the poll tax system is abandoned.

You will vote FOR No. 39.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT No. 40 (Levies Taxes for Schools)

The ballot title on this measure is misleading. It states that school districts shall be authorized "to levy by a vote of the qualified electors respectively thereof an annual tax for the maintenance of schools, etc."

Just that — and no more. But the real purpose of the proposal is to abolish the present limit of 18 mills on school taxation. The new measure would make the sky the limit on millage increases.

What we are confronted with here is not a question of raising additional school revenue but the question of which is the wisest course — to fool around with millage increases that don't mean anything, or attempt to carry forward the assessment reform that is already under way.

Twenty years ago when this writer came to Hope and consolidated the local papers the then president of the Hope School Board told me that "every time the tax rate went up assessments went down — and revenue remained about the same." If you are looking for some of the things that are wrong with Arkansas, this is one of them — and Amendment 40 is an evil bill.

It's just another chapter in a history of futility — trying to dodge trouble by hiding behind a paper plan.

When property assessments lagged behind rent rises as our country came out of the 1929-33 depression this writer demanded on this page that the commercial rent situation around Hope be catalogued, and assessments made to conform. We had previously endorsed the Hall 2 per cent state sales tax, bearing down on the people are large, and property should bear its fair share. The situation at that time was desperate, with $90-a-month salaries for teachers, and school warrants being discounted 20 per cent — or rejected entirely.

Similarly, we had to go out recently and work the assessment system over when we needed additional credit to put up Hope's two new grade schools.

Repeal of the 18-mill deadline won't help the schools — it will hurt them, by ruining everything we have been trying to do in behalf of higher assessments.

By all means, vote AGAINST No. 40

PROPOSED AMENDMENT No. 41 (To Abolish the State Ad Valorem Tax)

This proposes to prohibit the legislature from levying a state tax on property.

It is one thing for the legislature to abolish the state tax. In an emergency a special session could always put the tax on again quickly. But a constitutional amendment would have to wait on another general election for appeal.

This is ill-advised and dangerous. Accessibility of tangible property to taxation must always remain the great reserve force which supports our schools and other institutions. We can waive the tax for a time—but to prohibit by a constitutional amendment is wrong.

Vote AGAINST No. 41

PROPOSED ACT No. 1 (School District Reorganization)

We were for this the year it lost. We're still for it.

Vote FOR No. 1

PROPOSED ACT No. 2 (To Amend Local Option Law)

The brewers got this one up. The bill would require that local option voting be held only on the date of general elections — that is, either this coming Tuesday, or two years from Tuesday. The present law permits a local option election any time an adequate petition is circulated, stipulating only that after one side has raised the question and the people have voted there shall be another election until two years from date.

I'm a wet who doesn't have any use for the local option business of making liquor tax-free, but as long as it's a bad law to begin with and the proposal isn't to repeal it I don't see any reason for wasting time amending it.

Vote AGAINST No. 2

PROPOSED ACT No. 3 (Election Boards)

This is a bill to provide both majority and minority party representation on state and local election boards. It is endorsed by both the Democratic and Republican parties in Arkansas — and is therefore non-controversial.

Vote FOR No. 3

PROPOSED ACT No. 4 (Amending Workmen's Compensation Law)

Any tampering with the Workmen's Compensation Law is open to suspicion in view of the long and bitter fight to get this enactment over the heads of a recalcitrant legislature.

But this proposal is plain.

It is endorsed by the Arkansas Workmen's Compensation Commission, the insurance companies, labor, and corporation attorneys. The bill requires amending today because the old scale of benefits is out of line with today's wages.

Vote FOR No. 4

More Mines Are Seized by French Troops

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

Paris, Oct. 28. — (UP)— French troops and security guards struck in the important Pas de Calais coal basin at dawn today and seized seven large coal mines without opposition, further weakening the Communist-led strike of 350,000 miners.

Trucksloads of troops and guards from the Lille area carried out a big encircling movement and then hit deep into the Lens-Bray-Auchel triangle to take the pits.

The area had not been touched in Monday's all-out attack by 30,000 troops and guards against the eastern half of the coal basin in the northern fields.

The ministry reported other mines were occupied in the Avesoy department of South-Central France.

Major operations also are taking place in the Gard department, near Ales, the ministry said.

A miner was killed in Gard department last Tuesday.

The government announcement said 21 arrests had been made in the Ales region. Those arrested included a large number of North Africans and foreigners and 70 small bombs were seized, the announcement said.

The government also reported a back-to-work movement among the miners, particularly in Lorraine. Leaders of the Communist-controlled railroad union met to discuss the possibility of calling a nationwide rail stoppage in which all coal trains would be held at the frontiers.

Duckers at Calais, Dunkirk, Dieppe, Le Havre, Rouen, Bordeaux, Nantes and Saint Nazaire refused to load ships bringing coal to France.

By this time employees of the agency were watching the cash drawer religiously and caught the youth who readily admitted his brother was the only one who actually got money. After questioning the story came out.

They were turned over to the county for action.

Republicans Confident of Illinois

Chicago, Oct. 28. (AP)— Republican are broadly confident they will sweep Illinois by a comfortable 200,000 to 450,000 margin next Tuesday.

Democratic leaders say they will retain a slim majority in the state. But they give them enough votes to carry the state by at least 100,000.

Hotly-contested fights for senator and governor are big factors. But the state outcome seems to hinge a good deal on the size of the total vote and whether Democrats can roll up a big edge in Chicago, their traditional stronghold.

Major party leaders figure the state vote will total about 4,000,000, the same as in 1944. Democratic hopes are pinned on a big turnout — the bigger the better.

GOP chiefs look for a huge Dewey-Warren victory to put the state's 28 electoral votes in the Republican presidential column for the first time since 1928 and to help carry their state ticket to triumph.

The Democratic choice for senator is Paul Douglas, economics professor at the University of Chicago. He says his election chances are "a toss-up," and that his race will be decided by 50,000 to 75,000 votes.

He has AFL, CIO and other labor union backing in his intensive campaign to unseat Republican C. Wayland (Curly) Brooks.

Brooks voted for the Taft-Hartley law.

Brooks' backers say he will win by at least 100,000 to 30,000. He won in 1942 by 2, over a Democrat who beat Douglas 2-1 in the primary.

Republican Gov. Dwight H. Green seeks a third four-year term as governor. No Illinois governor has ever held the office for three consecutive terms.

Green has a strong opponent in Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson, Chicago lawyer and former United Nations delegate.

Each says he is a chieftain to win. Green won by 257,000 in 1940 and 72,000 in 1944. Franklin D. Roosevelt carried the state both times.

The four nominees for senator and governor put on the most colorful campaign show.

Brooks called Douglas "irresponsible x x x a socialist-minded professor x x x a demagogue with a lot of cock-and-bull stories."

Douglas called Brooks "a tool of the monopolists x x x a dyed-in-the-wool, reactionary isolationist, dominated by the Chicago Tribune."

Green called Stevenson "a new deal, a striped pants internationalist" who would give Illinois "waste and deficits and staggering taxes."

Stevenson called Green master of "a policy of making money with payrollers, spoilmen and hoodlums who crawl all over the statehouse."

Republicans held a 2-6 edge over Democrats in the state's congressional delegation. Both sides hope for gains. But little, if any, change seems likely.

Henry A. Wallace's Progressives failed to get their state and national tickets on the state ballot. But they have four congressional and 32 state assembly and county office nominees on the ballot in Cook county offices at stake in 1948. They hope to do even better this year, and elect a state's attorney.

Plans Radio Board
Sydney, Oct. 28. — The Australian Government plans to set up a board of radio control, according to a statement made today in Parliament. Prime Minister Joseph B. Chifley said there was no suggestion of socializing the air. At present broadcasting comes under the control of the Post Office.

Marshall Plan Helps Uncle Sam

Youths Held for Theft of $49

City Police yesterday arrested a couple of local youths, ages 12 and 14, following questioning the older admitted taking $49 from a parts-room cash drawer at Roger Clinton Buick Agency. The younger looked the cash drawer 4 times taking sums each time that total $49.

Employees of the firm missed the money but could not explain where it went. The older boy had told his brother about getting the money and the youngsters decided the story came out.

By this time employees of the agency were watching the cash drawer religiously and caught the youth who readily admitted his brother was the only one who actually got money. After questioning the story came out.

They were turned over to the county for action.

You May Be Able to Keep a Good Man Down But Some Old Jokes Just Won't Be Killed

By HAL BOYLE
New York — (AP)— Ho, ho, ho! Boo, hoo, hoo! Ha, ha, ha. I know I'm mixed up boys, but I don't know whether to laugh or cry.

I've just finished reading Homer Crox's "What Grandpa Laughed At." It's an excavation job by the author of "West of the Water Tower" into the popular jokes that America chuckled at in the 25 years before the first world war.

And the chief conclusion is you may be able to keep a good man down but you can't kill a joke, good or bad. The only difference is that it took grandfather more words to tell the same gag than it does his grandson.

Want to know what made the gay nineties so gay? Well, hold on to your sides, this one'll stay you.

"Why do married men live longer than single ones?"

"They don't. It only seems longer."

That seems familiar? Well, it was printed back in 1891 — and before that Walter Raleigh probably told it to Queen Elizabeth.

Let's skip to the merry year of 1893, when the nation whooped and hollered about the one concerning the deaf old lady who lived near the Brooklyn navy yard.

It seems that on Washington's birthday last year a 21-gun salute, and the old lady said:

"Come in."

All right, let's go on to 1895. That's the year a country lady approached a hotel desk and said:

"Can you give me a room and bath?"

"No, ma'am," said the clerk. "I can give you a room, but you will have to take your own bath."

This one has been around today. But I think it is historically interesting because it shows there was a time when a hotel clerk would give you anything.

Remember 1897? There was a small war that year. But that year somebody also defined a monologue as "a conversation between a husband and wife." The Spanish-American war is pretty well forgotten, but that warlike still as near as your radio.

Ever hear a night club comedian woe him about the man who married a fathead lady because he liked her "pictures"? George Ade made it way back in 1899.

It was in 1902 when stank rose to 24 cents a pound, that the fellow went into a restaurant, ordered a fried of beef and not a milk. "What's that?" asked the waiter. "Ade made it way back in 1899."

Dewey Pledges Action to Halt Reds in Asia

By JACK BELL

Enroute with Dewey to Boston, Oct. 28 — (AP)—Speedy action to block the advance of Communism in Asia was pledged today by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Barnesburg, his way across Massachusetts toward Boston, the GOP nominee left behind in Cleveland last night a promise that if he is elected this country will strengthen its bonds with non-Communist China.

He also got assurance in Cleveland in support from Abraham Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Dewey speaks in the Boston arena tonight on an unannounced subject. His talk will be broadcast (CBS) from 9:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Dewey's plug for quick aid to China was in line with the known feeling of some of his top advisers that the Soviets are being permitted to make great gains in Asia while the world's attention is centered on the Berlin blockade.

These advisers give some credence to a theory that it is a part of a Russian staff in Berlin to keep the world's eyes off Asia.

Dewey told an audience estimated at 13,000 persons in the Cleveland auditorium last night: "It is very late and all China is in grave peril. We will renew and strengthen our ancient ties of friendship with this great war time ally."

The New York governor accused the Truman administration of being "fumbling and weak" in its handling of world problems. He said it had made "tragic concessions" in many parts of the world.

"By consent of our government," he declared, "the Soviet has reached far out into the Pacific to the Kurile Islands near our own Aleutians."

"In a little more than three years the Soviet has extended its swathe nearly half way around the world and rules more than 500,000,000 human beings."

Slamming at Mr. Truman's conduct of foreign affairs, Dewey said: "Whether the Republic achieves peace by conducting these desperately important matters on a happy-thought basis or by joyfully remarking that we like good old Joe."

Dewey's "happy thought" phrase apparently was a reference to Mr. Truman's abortive plan to send Chief Justice Vinson to Moscow for personal negotiations.

Again without naming Mr. Truman, Dewey said:

"It is a tragic fact that at this crucial time the Communist propaganda line is being given substance by some Americans in places of authority."

"Whether they know it or not, they are voicing day after day the world wide Communist propaganda that America is heading from boom to bust."

Mr. Truman has contended that election of the Republicans might bring about a depression.

Johnston's endorsement of Dewey made him the second head of a national union to join the Republican camp. Previously William W. Wadsworth, general president of the A. F. L. building service workers union, had backed the GOP nominee.

Another Rebellion Hits Peru
Lima, Peru, Oct. 28. — (AP)— The government rushed loyal troops to suppress today after an army garrison revolted near Arequipa, said Peru's second major rebellion within 25 days.

President Jose Luis Bustamante y Rivero's government announced today that Brig. Manuel Odría, commander of the Arequipa garrison and a former minister of government (interior), and troops under his command had launched an insurrection.

A communique which gave no details of the progress of the revolt, said the government was taking "necessary measures to subdue the subversive movement."

Arequipa is in southern Peru, about 135 miles from the Bolivian border.

Stalin Warns UN Policy Can Lead to War

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Oct. 28. — (AP)— Prime Minister Stalin accused the United States, Britain and the so-called neutral states of the United Nations Security Council today of supporting a "policy" which can lead to the "unleashing of a new war."

The Soviet leader added, however, that the present international crisis "can only end in an ignominious failure on the part of the instigators of a new war."

Stalin answered a series of questions put to him by a reporter of Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper, on the Berlin controversy.

The prime minister criticized China, Canada, Colombia, Syria, Belgium and Argentina for their actions in the security council at Potsdam during the Berlin discussions. (These six nations attempted to mediate the big power quarrel over Berlin, but Russia vetoed their proposed compromise Monday.)

"Those gentlemen are obviously lending their support to a policy of aggression — to a policy of unleashing a new war," Stalin asserted.

"The point is," Stalin went on, "that the instigators of the aggressive policy of the United States of America and Britain do not consider themselves interested in agreement and cooperation with the U. S. S. R."

"They want no agreement and cooperation, in order to thwart agreement, to throw the blame on the U. S. S. R. and, by so doing, prove the impossibility of cooperation with the U. S. S. R."

"The instigating of a new war, striving to unleash a new war, fear more than anything else agreement and cooperation with the U. S. S. R. since a policy of agreement with the U. S. S. R. undermines the positions of the warmongers and deprives the aggressive policy of these gentlemen of its objective."

"Precisely for this reason they disrupt agreements, a free and friendly policy of the United States of America which have reached such agreements with the U. S. S. R., and transfer the question, in violation of the U. N. charter, to the Security Council."

Thurmond Ends Campaign in Arkansas

By The Associated Press

State Rights Democrats assaulted Arkansas with a cross-fire of election oratory last (Wednesday) night.

Addressing a three-state rally in Texarkana, their presidential candidate, Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, called for restoration of the Democratic Party as "a bulwark against centralization of power in government."

And from another direction, Arkansas' leading States Rights Democrats advocate, Gov. Ben T. Laney, speaking in Memphis, cried that adoption of President Truman's civil rights program "would mean the breakdown of constitutional government."

The rallying cry of the States Rights faction, opposition to the proposed FEPC, anti-poll tax and anti-lynch legislation.

Thurmond, ending a three-day bid for Arkansas' nine electoral votes, insisted that both Mr. Truman and Governor Dewey, the Republican candidate, have carried their parties down the road toward centralization of power.

He pledged his party to reclaim the Democratic party and said, "let us return it to its historic function of standing as a bulwark against centralization of power in government, and as a champion of the rights of states to manage their own internal affairs."

Laney devoted his address, at a States Rights Democrats rally in Memphis, to an attack on the civil rights proposals.

Changing passage of such legislation would mean a breakdown in constitutional government, Laney added. "Mr. Truman x x x admitted this when he requested that a civil rights program be set up by legislation or otherwise."

He said the president's committee on civil rights conceded "the unconstitutionality of the whole thing," by saying "there is nothing that the constitution which in so many ways authorizes the national government to protect the civil rights of the American people on a comprehensive basis."

Arkansas' governor also charged that the civil rights program would "further centralize government; x x x when encouragement of Communist trends in America; x x x result in complete failure as far as accomplishing anything is concerned; x x x mean confusion, disunity, misstates rights, the hampering of understanding, the destruction of states rights, the hampering of personal freedom and liberty, the lynching of the constitution, the assassination of democracy itself."

Eleven Germans Sentenced by U. S. Tribunal

Nuernberg, Germany, Oct. 28. — (AP)— An American court today imposed sentences ranging from three years to life imprisonment on 11 of Germany's top military commanders for atrocities in World War II.

The 11 were convicted on war crimes charges after a nine-month trial. Two fellow defendants, Field Marshal Hugo Sperrle and Adolf Otto Schenck, were acquitted.

Greyling, handsome Lt. Gen. Walter Warlimont, 54, found to be one of Hitler's top advisers in drafting the Nazi war policy against the Allies, was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The same penalty was meted out to Lt. Gen. Hermann Reineck, 60, who was charged with issuing similar orders. Reineck served as a military member of a peoples' court which tried the group which sought to assassinate Hitler in July 1944.

The three-man tribunal yesterday found all 13 defendants innocent of plotting to start World War II, ruling they did not rate high enough to make policy.

It then proceeded to pass judgment on charges of crimes by 13 against prisoners of war and civilians.

Acquitted today was Admiral Otto Schiewink, 60, commander of the North Sea fleet. Yesterday he was acquitted. Field Marshal Hugo Sperrle, 62, commander of the air fleet which blitzed London in 1940.

Convicted today on both counts of crimes against prisoners and civilians were:

General Hans Reinhardt, 61, who fought in Poland, The Netherlands, Yugoslavia and Russia.

General Hans Von Salmuth, who participated in the Polish Russian campaign.

General Karl Hohl, 58, who fought in France, Greece and Russia.

He picked 635 pounds in one day to better the highest reported mark of 625 pounds in a single day, by Michael Baker of Oklahoma.

Smith was working, confirmed by Horton, on whose farm Smith was working when he picked well over a bale of cotton in one day, confirmed the accomplishment.

Smith's wife didn't do badly, either. Quoting at 2 p.m. on the same afternoon, Mrs. Smith picked 405 pounds.

That made a grand total of 1,040 pounds, picked by the Smiths in one day, and at $3.50 per hundredweight, they earned $36.40.

Navy Expert Says A-Bomb Overated

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 28 (AP)—A navy expert on the atomic bomb says the bomb is overrated as a quick knockout weapon.

Speaking at Navy Day ceremonies yesterday, Rear Adm. William Sterling Parsons declared, "It's still just another bomb."

Admiral Parsons said in a sneak attack on the United States with a few atom bombs would be just "another Pearl Harbor." It would cook the goose of the country making such an attack, he said.

He was one of the technical directors in developing the atomic bomb and is now head of atomic defense in the office of chief of naval operations. He was bomb commander on the B-29 which dropped the first one on Hiroshima.

El Dorado, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Lion Oil Company today reported increases in both operations and earnings during the first nine months of this year.

Net crude oil production increased 28.2 per cent to 3,725,356 barrels. Drilling and exploration were accelerated 21.6 per cent.

Martin reported that refinery crude runs for nine months of 1948 were 5,556,305 barrels, an increase of 30.4 per cent.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, Oct. 28 (AP)—Grains recovered partly from a mid-day sinking spell on the Board of Trade today. Most contracts did not get back to the previous close however, and the market's tone remained easy and nervous through to the close.

Rains in the Texas Panhandle and predictions of light showers in other sections of the Western Plains represented a particularly 194-9 crop deliveries, particularly sagged on arrival of 542 cars of the grain here and a drop of around 2 to 6 cents in cash prices.

Soybeans, as well as corn, ran into selling following a new shipment of these commodities into New Orleans had been embargoed. Rye was relatively steady most of the session on rumors the government was making small purchases of this grain.

The December wheat contract at times got very strong support from leading export houses, but that was not sufficient to push the price ahead of the market. Reports said Italy overnight had bought about 3,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Wheat closed 1 cent lower to 3-8 higher, December $2.29 1-2-3-8, corn was 1-2-8 lower, December $1.39 1-2-3-8, oats were unchanged to 14 lower, December 78 3-8, rye was 1-4 to 1 cent higher, December $1.83 3-4, soybeans were 2-4-3-4 lower, November $2.51 1-4, and land was 20 to 42 cents a hundred pounds lower, November $19.20.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Oct. 28 (AP)—The stock market went into a broad decline today following a short-lived period of stability this morning.

Losses piled up to 2 points or so with steel shares among the most vulnerable issue.

Turnover for the day approached the $1,000,000,000 mark.

Brokers said operations were largely professional. Profit taking they suggested, was encouraged by a consistent upward trend this month.

The latest Russian blast against the Western powers, according to some quarters, exerted a minor influence on the price trend.

Losers included National Steel, U. S. Mugs, Wheeling Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, General Motors, Goodrich, J. I. Case, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Electric power Light, Kennecott Copper, Du Pont, Radio Corp., Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Standard Oil (N.J.), Pure Oil, and United Air Lines.

In the bond market some obligations of the Missouri Pacific system pushed ahead following disclosure of reorganization proposals by an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON New Orleans, Oct. 28 (AP)—Cotton futures declined here today under light hedging and liquidation and only scale down trade support. Mills were the principal buyers, along with some demand for near-by market which was credited to export sales. Dealers reported that the basis for spot cotton had eased in Texas. Congestion of cotton at some warehouse centers was expected to bring some cotton at cheaper prices from sellers who were anxious to dispose of the staple promptly.

Truman Calls for Votes in New England

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

With Truman enroute to New York, Oct. 28 (AP)—President Truman said today that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey "is on the run" and "he is running right behind me."

The president told a throng at Providence, R. I., that the Republican "pipe dream of victory is going up in smoke next Tuesday."

Mr. Truman struck out directly at Dewey in this longtime Democratic stronghold and drew wild cheers from the big crowd as he told them:

"I defy you to say where the Republican candidate stands on anything. He doesn't dare to tell the people."

Police estimates of the crowds that met the president in Providence ranged up to 50,000.

Mr. Truman said good reports were coming to him from all over the country and added the Republican poll takers were going to "fall flat on their faces" when they see the election results.

He is enroute to New York for a major campaign talk at 9:30 p. m. (CST) in Madison Square Garden, after a Boston warning to Russia "we shall not retreat" from Berlin.

Speaking from Massachusetts' hallowed Taunton Green where the "first flag of liberty in the original 13 colonies flew from a giant liberty pole" months before the outbreak of the revolution, Mr. Truman asserted:

"I think it's time for liberty poles again, all over the country."

"Only this time, I'd spell pole another way — 'poll'."

It's time for the American people to cast their ballots for liberty at the polls next Tuesday — liberty from the Republican 80th day nothing Congress.

The president, proceeding from Boston to Providence, R. I., by automobile, spoke earlier in the day at Quincy and Brockton.

Thousands of Bostonians, crammed into Mechanics Hall last night, cheered lustily as he declared: "I hate communism" and "the Godless creeps it hates."

He asserted with these words the "airlift" will be maintained:

"In Germany, we have taken the frank and firm position that Communism must not spread its tentacles into the western zones."

"We shall feed Berlin and the people of Germany will be given their chance to work out a decent life under a Democratic government."

Turning to domestic issues today the president asked for election of Congress "to work with a forward-looking president in solving our acute housing shortages."

"I have been fighting for such a housing program," he said, "but the leaders of the Republican party in the 80th Congress murdered the housing bill."

He added the voters' needed a "liberty poll" election of a Congress that will:

1. Put a brake on the soaring cost of living.
2. Improve our Social Security

Judge Winfield B. Hale of Rogersville, Tenn., and the Tennessee Court of Appeals, and Judge Justin W. Harding of Franklin, O., assistant attorney general.

Field Marshal Wilhelm Von Leeb was found guilty yesterday of crimes against civilians.

Field Marshal Karl Friedrich Wilhelm Von Kuechler and Gen. Hermann Roth were convicted of carrying out Hitler's order for the summary execution of Communist commissars who fell into German hands.

In its 330-page judgment the court was severe in its condemnation of crimes against civilians.

"The record in this case is replete with horror," the court said. "No nation, no army and its leaders, of any time, civilized or uncivilized, labor under so great a load of guilt as do Hitler's Germany, its army and its leaders."

In acquitting the German military leaders of plotting war, the court held they were not policy makers.

A 14th defendant, Gen. Johannes Blaskowitz, 64, jumped to his death the day the trial opened.

system, not weaken it, as the 80th Congress did."

3. "Act fairly and without prejudice on the question of admitting displaced persons to this country from Europe."

4. "Improve the rights of labor, not pass shameful and vicious laws like the Taft-Hartley Act."

At Quincy, Mr. Truman spoke from the steps of First Parish church, beneath which Presidents John Adams and John Quincy Adams lie buried. Police Captain George W. Fallon estimated that 6,000 were lined up in the streets in front of him.

He said he was "just as certain as I am standing here Massachusetts will give the Democrats a 100,000 majority."

Mr. Truman said again "I hate communism" and that the Communists "hate me." "That the way I like it," he continued.

The way to beat communism, he said, "is to keep the country strong and prosperous."

Like U.S. Comics Shanghai — (AP)—American comic books are flooding Shanghai. Few bookstores are without them. Their popularity, with children and adults alike, has fostered the rapid growth of the sidewalk vendor. It is generally understood that comic books are paid for abroad by means that have been outlawed today but which are likely to continue because their delivery is made through the post office.

The Doctor Says:

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
 Written for NEA Service

When translated, polynuria means inflammation and pain in several nerves. Generally speaking, the diagnosis of polynuria is easy. There is muscular wasting and weakness, pain, tenderness, and interference with the little toes of both feet, both hands, or similar areas of both sides of the limbs are involved. The pain frequently is severe. It is burning, continuous, and lasts for long periods of time. The interference with sensation may be so severe that a pin can be stuck deep into the skin and tissues of the involved areas without being felt at all.

Causes of Condition
 Chronic alcoholism can produce this condition. Most of the well-known metals, such as mercury, bismuth, arsenic, and lead are responsible in some cases. Vitamin deficiency diseases, particularly deficiency, which is a vitamin "B" deficiency, and polynuria may develop from general dietary deficiencies during pregnancy and in the presence of such general diseases as diabetes, pernicious anemia, infections may also produce polynuria. Polynuria is a frequent symptom of so-called rheumatic infection. It may complicate almost any of the well-known infections and contagious diseases.

Severe as the condition is, its cure depends on determining the cause. If caused by a vitamin deficiency, for example, the proper treatment is to cure that error in the diet. When complicating known infections, spontaneous recovery generally takes place as the patient improves from the disease responsible. Rest in bed is usually necessary not only because of the muscular weakness, but also because the heart may become involved. Serious deformities can develop if the limbs are not supported by splints, sandbags, or other means.

Every effort must be made to make the correct diagnosis early and to begin whatever treatment is necessary just as soon as possible.

QUESTION: What vitamin is good for constipation?
ANSWER: There is no vitamin which has a specific action on this symptom. Other measures are preferable.

A Lincoln Struggle
 Decatur, Ill., 28.—A broad belt in central Illinois is known as the "Lincoln country" because Abraham Lincoln lived there. But the title is supported by current as well as historic facts. A survey shows that eight relatives of the Civil War president still make their homes in Macon county. They are fourth, fifth and sixth cousins.

The Hungarian partridge is native to central Europe, about 30 years ago, and is an ideal game bird because it is able to withstand droughts and severe winters.

Tobacco Heiress Granted a Quick Divorce

Reno, Nev., Oct. 28 — (AP) — Doris Duke, heiress to a tobacco fortune which has made her one of the world's wealthiest women, got a quick divorce yesterday from her second husband, Porfirio Rubirosa, Dominican Republic diplomat.

District Judge William McKnight gave her the decree on grounds of extreme mental cruelty, shortly after the filing of the suit. The 35-year-old Miss Duke, who won restoration of her maiden name, returned here October 24, it was disclosed. She has maintained a home here since she became a resident in 1944 to divorce her first husband, James H. R. Cromwell, whom she married in 1938. "Little things kept building up and it was just one of those things that didn't work out," she told interviewers at her home after the hearing. She and Rubirosa she added, "are quite friendly."

Public Health School Change Proposed

Little Rock, Oct. 28 — (AP) — Dr. T. Ross, state health officer, said today the Arkansas Public Health Association will be asked at its meeting here next month to endorse proposed legislation to reorganize local public health systems.

Ross said the proposed "basic public health law" already has been approved by the Arkansas Medical Society, the State Board of Health and other groups.

Suggests Way to Halt War in Palestine

Paris, Oct. 28 — (AP) — Britain and China proposed today that the United Nations use economic sanctions to force peace in Palestine. France, Belgium and Canada announced support and a reliable source said the United States also would vote for the resolution. Russia and the Soviet Ukraine did not make known their positions.

The debate will be resumed tomorrow in the security council. Russia asked for a two-day postponement but Warren Austin, the American council president, ruled at adjournment today there would be no delay. The council meets again tomorrow.

Israel has rejected orders of the U. N. mediator of Palestine, Ralph Bunche, to withdraw troops from positions won in the Negev desert in a week of battle with Egypt. Egypt's complaint that Israel is violating the U. N. cease fire order brought up the issue.

Britain, France and China have not recognized Israel. The United States, Russia and many smaller nations have.

Six Alexander Cadogan of Britain offered the council a draft resolution calling for a special committee to examine urgently the action the council took under article 41, chapter seven, of the U. N. charter. That article reads:

"The security council may decide what measures involving the use of armed force are to be employed to give effect to its decisions, and it may call upon the members of the United Nations to include such measures. These may include complete or partial interruption of economic relations and of rail, sea, air, postal, telegraphic, radio, and other means of communications, and the severance of diplomatic relations."

Authoritative sources inside the council said the United States will support the British-Chinese resolution. Canada and Belgium announced they would support it when it is put to a vote.

Dr. T. F. Stansfield, China declared stronger measures were needed to enforce the truce in the turbulent Palestine situation.

The council called today's session to hear Egyptian charges that Israel is violating the U. N. cease fire order on the Negev front in southern Palestine.

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, acting U. N. Palestine mediator, told the council the hostilities might wreck the Palestine truce. He said the time has come for "bolder and broader action."

Bunche said the language of the council's Oct. 19 cease fire order might be considered by some to be ambiguous. But he added, his interpretation of the order was that Israel and Egypt must withdraw their troops from the front before negotiations are undertaken on other outstanding problems.

He said the council had laid down the principle that no military advantage should be gained by either side during the truce. Israel has rejected the troops withdrawal provision, declaring the language of the resolution called for negotiation on that point. Cadogan asserted the council

McMath to Welcome a Road Plan

By LEON HATCH

Little Rock, Oct. 28 — (AP) — Sid McMath said today he is "not irrevocably committed" to use of the state's credit for highway construction.

The Democratic nominee and apparent next governor said how- ever he is committed if no other way can be found to build roads.

He told the highway committee of the Arkansas Legislative Council that if an alternate method can be found he would be the first to hear about it.

McMath successfully campaigned for the Democratic nomination on a platform in which he advocated additional bond issues for highway construction.

Saying Arkansas citizens want the legislature to do something about the road problems if it doesn't do anything else, he urged the committee to make a careful study of the highway situation.

"If no preliminary studies are made, the 1949 legislature couldn't possibly solve the highway situation in 60 days (the length of its session) even if it did nothing else," McMath said.

He added that if an initiated act for reorganization of school districts passes at the general election, the need for better highways will be greater. This is because smaller districts would be consolidated and many pupils would have to go farther to school.

McMath again referred to highways as the state's "No. 1 problem."

He was followed in an appearance before the committee by Harry W. Lochner, Chicago highway consultant, who discussed the factors entering into a long-range road construction program.

The large and popular quail family is represented in America by five distinct genera. This bird is very secretive in all his ways and is found in the mountains and desert as well as southern and midwest grasslands.

"I could not close its eyes to what has happened in southern Palestine," he said. "If Jewish forces were permitted to retain positions gained after Oct. 14, it would be a display of weakness by the council."

John S. Eban of Israel told the council the Egyptian forces were invaders. He said the British-Chinese draft resolution proposed to "restore its fortune" and added:

"The second Egyptian invasion of Palestine would carry the banner of the United Nations."

When Egyptian forces first entered Palestine, Eban said, the delegate from Britain "spent most of his time" in making excuses why sanctions should not be used against Egypt.

Eban said he agreed with Bunche that direct negotiations between the Arabs and the Jews should be held. However, he said, however, have always refused to deal directly with Jewish authorities. The Arabs say that would be tacit admission of the existence of a Jewish state.

The Loves of Carmen
 By SOPHIE KERR
 Serialization of screenplay from a novel by Prosper Merimee
 Copyright, 1948, NEA SERVICE, INC.

XXVIII
 The bull-fighting procession moved through the tunnel that led into the arena with Lucas walking arrogantly at the head. Friends and hangers-on scattered, hurrying on the steps that led to the grandstand, Carmen stood at the mouth of the tunnel, waving after the matador. "Bring me his ears, Lucas," she called out.

When the procession had nearly disappeared, she turned and her face was alive with anticipation of the thrills to come. Suddenly she stopped short and her laughter choked in her throat. A black cat had run in front of her, right across her feet.

"She's afraid," Carmen, frightened, and crossed her fingers in an automatic sign against bad luck. A figure loomed in her path. She looked up and there, before her, close, close, was Jose.

Only his feverish eyes betrayed the fact that this battered, filthy beggar was the once proud young dragon from Navarre.

After the first shock of recognition, Carmen glanced quickly around. "What kind of cat are you to show your face in 'Cortado'?" she snapped. "You'll be caught."

"Carmen—" his voice was unsteady. "Did you see that black cat? It means serious trouble every time. Jose, if you have any sense at all, you will—"

He took her hand. "Carmen, let's go home," he implored. "No."

"Please, Carmen. I can't stand it any longer—waiting, waiting, waiting. Please, Carmen."

With a stolid, empty, promising smile, she started to back away from him. "Tomorrow, Josecito. Maybe I will be back tomorrow. Wait another day, one more day."

He followed her, still hanging on to her hand, his voice suddenly hoarse and rapid. "It was because I struck you, wasn't it? You wouldn't have left me. I know you wouldn't. I don't know what made me do it. If I tried to smile at her, 'I'll be such a good husband—you'll see.' His face was working but it found a forced smile. 'Let's go home, Carmen.'"

"She tried to pull her hand away. 'No.' His control began to crack. 'You'll do what I tell you to do.' 'I'll do what it pleases me to do,' she snapped. 'I always have and I always will. She twisted her wrist out of his grasp. 'Any right now it pleases me to watch a bull fight and a bull.'"

She turned and ran toward the steps and Jose ran after her, his face wild with jealousy. "It's Lucas, the matador, now, is that it?" he cried.

She turned on him furiously. "Yes. Yes. Now are you satisfied?" Her words flayed him. "And why not? You like to laugh once in a while. What have I had

DOROTHY DIX Marriage Smashers

That mothers-in-law are charter members of the "home-wrecking crew," has become such an accepted belief that probably the highest matrimonial recommendation any youth or maiden could offer would be a certificate that they arrived in the world via the story express and had no female relatives whatsoever.

Unfortunately, there are just enough mothers-in-law who are trouble-makers to justify this theory. There is the possessive mother who cannot bear to give up her darling little boy to any girl, and who hurls upon his wife's faults until she makes Sonny feel that he has been kipped and taken by an adventuress. And there is the bossy mother who runs her daughter's home and who decides every detail of her life, and leaves to the poor young husband no privileges, except that of paying the bills.

And there is the oracle mother-in-law who always knows best. And the interfering mother-in-law. And the mother-in-law who worries all of her family secrets out of her children and then blabs them around the neighborhood until she turns a husband and wife argument into a scandal.

Big Difference
 As for the other hand, there are myriads of good mothers-in-law who mind their own business, who handle their in-laws with tact, and who are an ever-present help in times of trouble. The difference between the two is that the one and she-devils is no greater than that between good mothers-in-law and bad mothers-in-law.

This being true, nothing is stranger in the whole mother and child relationship than that women so seldom realize the kind of mothers-in-law they make themselves to a large extent, how their children's marriages turn out.

Boys and girls, for instance, know little about human nature. They have been in the habit of taking their opinions from Mother, and what she says about their mates still goes with them. Mama either builds up their husbands and wives or pulls them down. Many and many a marriage goes on the skids because Mother knocks the props from under it. With her fault-finding and criticisms she makes John dissatisfied with Anna, or Sally feel that she has thrown herself away on George, and it is all over then except a divorce decree.

Nor can anyone doubt that mothers-in-law are first aid to divorce. In their helping on every squabble that husbands and wives have and turning every little sparring match into a fight to the death. Being human, every married couple are bound to have their differences of opinion, and go to the mat with them on occasions. It left to themselves, they will kiss and make up and forget it. But with their respective mothers-in-law taking sides and playing poor John because his wife is such a bum cook and weeping over Clara because the poor darling can't even have a fur coat, they can smash a marriage into so many pieces it can never be put together again.

Also, mothers-in-law could put the divorce courts out of business by rearing their children to be good husbands and wives; to take marriage on the chin and stand by their obligations, instead of quitting cold on them; to act like intelligent adults and not spoiled brats. There is nothing in the world stranger or more pitiful than that so many parents are bringing up the kind of future husbands and wives they never want their own children to marry.

Congressman of Texas Dies Suddenly

Washington, Oct. 28 — (AP) — Rep. Milton H. West of Texas died today at the age of 60.

West had served in the House since April, 1933. A Democrat, he succeeded John Nance Garner when the latter became vice president.

The congressman had been suffering for several months from lymphoma, a disease of the lymph glands. He announced some time ago he would retire from Congress next January at the end of his current term.

West was a member of the Ways and Means Committee.

Sterope Wins Rich Stake in England

Newmarket, England, Oct. 27 (AP)—Sterope, a 25 to 1 shot today by an 18-year-old apprentice jockey, galloped to victory in the Cambridge Stakes today and landed a betting fortune for his owner, J. B. Townley.

Townley, a Preston business man whose silks have raced only the last three seasons, won 150,000 pounds ($3,000,000) by backing his three-year-old bay colt in one of England's biggest betting coups in 50 years.

But the horse and his rider, Dennis Schofield, had to survive a foul claim to make the victory official. The objection on charge of crowding, was lodged by Jockey Charlie Smirke, who finished second on Royal Tara, half a length behind.

Smirke said later the stewards not only overruled his claim but also fined him 25 pounds ($500) for making a frivolous objection.

Two lengths behind Royal Tara, the French-bred Patchouly and the self-styled Impeccable finished in a dead heat for third place in the bulky field of 32. Royal Tara, a five-year-old carrying top weight of 126 pounds, and Impeccable started at 100 to 1, while Patchouly was 40 to 1.

These crowds flocked to historic Newmarket Heath in the crisp autumn sunning for the classic at a mile and one-eighth, which ranks as one of British racing's biggest wagering events.

And in a day of sensations—climaxing a Cinderella story for the winning horse, jockey and owner—it lost none of the glamor that has lured its 109-year history.

Townley's killing made the Cambridge Stakes purse of 3,000 pounds.

Laney Attacks Truman's Civil Rights Program

Memphis, Oct. 27 (AP)—Gov. Dan Laney of Arkansas charged here today that adoption of President Truman's civil rights proposals "would mean the breakdown of constitutional government."

In a speech delivered at a rally in behalf of States Rights Democratic presidential ticket of Govs. Strom Thurmond and Fielding Wright, Laney declared that Mr. Truman recognizes this fact.

"Mr. Truman in making the order setting up the committee on civil rights admitted this when he requested that a civil rights program be set up, either by legislation or otherwise," the Arkansas governor said.

He added: "The (presidential) committee on civil rights admitted the unconstitutionality of the whole procedure when it said, 'there is nothing in the constitution which in so many words authorizes the national government to protect the civil rights of the American people on a comprehensive basis.'"

Laney listed several other special grounds on which he said he opposed the president's civil rights program, probably the chief factor in formation of the States Rights party.

1. The adoption of such a program would further centralize our government.

2. It would mean encouragement of the communistic trends in America.

3. It would result in complete failure as far as accomplishing anything is concerned.

4. It would mean confusion, disunity, misunderstanding, destruction of states rights by the hampering of personal freedom and liberty, the trampling of the constitution, the cancellation of democracy itself.

He urged his listeners to "do some voting. X X X voting for states rights. . . . Voting for the preservation of personal liberty and freedom. . . . Voting for Thurmond and Wright."

May Carry Four States

Little Rock, Oct. 27 (AP)—Gov. Dan Laney of Arkansas believes the States Rights Democratic presidential candidate J. Strom Thurmond will carry South Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana.

And he gives the states rights ticket a "good chance" in Arkansas, Texas and Georgia.

Laney made these predictions at a news conference, a few hours before going to Memphis, where he spoke tonight in behalf of the States Rights.

Nearly 2,000 planetoids or tiny planets have been catalogued by astronomers.

Reds Tried to Get Atom Data During War

South Norwalk, Conn., Oct. 27 (AP)—Russia tried to get U. S. atomic secrets during the war and is trying even harder now. Lt. Gen. Leslie H. Groves disclosed today in an interview with the United Press.

There definitely were Soviet attempts to get our atomic secrets during the war, he said, but the bomb project staff, and, he added, "these" attempts undoubtedly are being pushed with redoubled intensity today.

Now that he no longer is connected with the mammoth atomic enterprise which he guided from its infancy in wartime, Groves consented to discuss on the record matters on which he has been silent up to now.

The 52-year-old Groves, now vice president of Remington Rand, Inc., cited as one example the Soviet interest in American atomic matters in an incident at Hanford, Wash.

It was in the early days of the bomb project when nobody knew for sure whether the $2,000,000,000 undertaking would pay off. Some undertakings would pay off. Some would not.

"Within 24 hours," Groves said, "knowledge of the difficulty had reached New York, and there was well-founded suspicion that it was turned over to a person outside the project."

But the difficulty was repaired and the Hanford plant went on to successful production of the stuff to make bombs.

Groves believes the Russians got hold of "many facts about the U. S. atomic bomb project during the war," he said.

But he doubts the Russians knew then how to interpret or what to do with the secrets they got. And he has not revised his estimate that the Soviet Union will not be able to manufacture atomic bombs before 1955 at the earliest.

"It is my belief, based on Russian actions," Groves said, "that the Soviets—no matter what information they get before Hiroshima—did not realize (1) that we were close to dropping an atomic bomb and (2) what effect it would have on the war."

They knew we were in this race, I don't know just how much they knew. But I don't think they realized how important it was."

Groves chuckled and said he wondered what the reaction in Moscow was to some of the reports sent back by Russian spies. "Take the Oak Ridge, Tenn. plant where explosive uranium-235 was separated by a tedious process from non-explosive U-238. Tons of material went to one end. Practically nothing came out the other."

"If a Russian agent got a report and sent it to Moscow saying thousands of persons were employed in a plant which produced nothing, I wonder," Groves said, "how the report was interpreted."

But whether they knew what to do with them or not, the Russians did get a lot of atomic secrets. The secret is how much atomic explosive has been given to the Soviet Union.

Groves said frankly, "I don't know that the Russians got any information about the critical assembly; I don't know that they did."

But they did get important information of other kinds, whether it did them any good or not. The got samples of plutonium and U-235, for one thing.

"This was a serious breach of security," Groves said, "because it showed that we could make plutonium and could separate U-235. It also showed them the party of the U-235 we were getting."

It has been reported that two days after the atomic destruction of Hiroshima—fell the biggest, if not the only, security breach of all—U. S. atomic secrets were disclosed in the Soviet Union.

The trouble was that many persons with secret knowledge were not convinced of the desirability of keeping it secret. More than 15 scientists were indicted from the project because, innocently or not, they talked.

And Groves had a bad moment when a Western congressman in the early spring of 1945 got up in the House and talked about a nuclear bomb and apparently powerful "charges" being manufactured in Washington.

Most of the secrets leaked up by the Russians were windfalls, so to speak. The Hanford case, Groves said, "there was no spy sitting there watching. It was a case of somebody talking too much to people."

Seven New Issues Face State Voters

By JIM THOMASSON
Little Rock, Oct. 27 (AP)—Arkansas voters face a "long" ballot in next Tuesday's general election and the principal reason is that there are three proposed constitutional amendments and four proposed initiatives acts.

That means that in addition to selecting their choices for public office on a national, state and local level, the electorate must register "yes" or "no" on the seven amendment and initiated acts proposals.

Two amendments and one initiated act have stirred some controversy. They are a proposed Amendment No. 41 sponsored by Governor Laney, which would abolish legislative authority to levy a state property tax, and proposed initiative act No. 2, to limit local option liquor license to the biennial November general election.

School people have opposed proposed Amendment No. 41, contending it would reduce funds for educational purposes. The legislature already has eliminated a property tax as a source of state income.

Next Tuesday, the electorate is to decide whether to make it definite that the general assembly couldn't revive this levy.

Governor Laney, who sponsored the proposal, contends that the state would get out of the property tax field, leaving any time in the future to local governmental units.

Discussing it recently, he said that the last legislature gave schools more money than was lost to them through legislative elimination of the state property tax.

Proposed Initiative Act, No. 2 has been attacked by the Anti-Saloon League and other day forces on the ground that it "would completely destroy local option."

The local option statute, an initiated proposal approved in 1912, permits local option liquor elections to be held at any time in the biennial November general election days.

Proposed Initiative Act, No. 1 would amend that act to provide that the elections be held only on the biennial November general election days.

After the education committee of the Arkansas Legislative Council, which contains AEA members, expressed opposition to proposed amendment No. 41, Gov. Laney issued a statement attacking No. 41.

He criticized the AEA and predicted that if No. 41 is adopted, the state's already low property tax would be further reduced, and that many districts would vote school tax levies of less than 10 cents.

There has been no noted opposition to the other proposals.

They include: Proposed Amendment No. 39, to authorize registration of voters; now prohibited constitutionally in the event the poll tax is abolished.

Proposed Initiative Act, No. 1 to abolish school districts having less than 350 school-age children. Bill introduced by James C. MacKrell, Little Rock, schoolman, a similar proposal was defeated two years ago. There has been little or no organized opposition to this year's proposal.

Proposed Initiative Act, No. 3 to assure the Republican party representation on state and county election boards and permit them to name minority general election officials.

Proposed Initiative Act, No. 4 to revise the workmen's compensation statutes. This monthly measure was introduced by a group of employers on the basis of experience with the present statutes.

"It is an important bill to be passed," he said. "It should be passed. It is a failure to observe the basic principles of security."

Groves had something to say on the issue of security vs. scientific freedom.

"This is an important bill to be passed," he said. "It should be passed. It is a failure to observe the basic principles of security."

"Somebody's got to make the rules. Our extreme liberals say nobody has a right to make rules. The question is, 'When does scientific freedom become scientific license?'"

"Is it right for any man to be in a position to make constitutional amendments in a life or death matter? Does a man have the right to impair the security of the United States?"

Groves said it didn't seem to him that he had been talking about security. He was talking about security. He was talking about security. He was talking about security.

ECA Plans No New Marshall Plan Grants

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Economic Cooperation Administration announced today it will make no new Marshall plan grants to European countries unless they have signed loan agreements. Only Britain and Ireland now have loan agreements.

The action temporarily cuts off new grants, or outright gifts, of recovery aid to France, Italy, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Ireland, The Netherlands and Turkey.

These are the countries eligible for ECA aid on a repayable loan basis, with whom negotiations have been in progress for months.

The British yesterday signed a loan agreement for $310,000,000 and Ireland also is exempt from the sweeping ECA decree because she concluded a $2,500,000 fisheries credit in the summer.

ECA is obliged under the Foreign Assistance Act, to use $1,000,000,000 of its Marshall plan appropriation in making loans which are repayable and which will finance specific industrial recovery projects.

While approximately $2,500,000,000 already has been handed out in grants, the loan program is behind schedule.

The Marshall plan agency described its action as a "move to balance the ratio of loans and grants."

Acting ECA Administrator Howard Bruce said he did not believe the halt in new grants would last long, or that it would affect the over-all program of providing and loaning the ECA program.

Yesterday another ECA spokesman predicted that all loans negotiations now underway would be concluded within two weeks.

A loan of about $50,000,000 to Ireland is "imminent," he said.

Larger credits to France—about $170,000,000—and the Netherlands, approximately $3,000,000 plus $15,000,000 for the Netherlands Indies, also are expected to be signed shortly.

Auto Dealers Charged With Conspiracy

Edwardsville, Ill., Oct. 27 (AP)—Motions were filed in Madison County Circuit court today to quash indictments charging Robert L. Knetzer and Arthur F. Kramer, bankrupt automobile dealers, with conspiracy to defraud and obtaining money by a confidence scheme.

Arraignment of the two men, accused of swindling prospective customers, was deferred until the motions are heard by Judge Edward F. Bares Friday. Attorneys for the defendants said they will plead innocent to the charges if the motions are denied.

In a supporting affidavit, Knetzer said his books and records were "unlawfully seized" by the grand jury that indicted the men. His affidavit also stated that newspapers and radio stations made "certain false accusations and prejudicial and inflammatory statements which I may state prejudiced the members of the grand jury against me."

TRIMBLE TO SPEAK
Berryville, Oct. 27 (AP)—Rep. Jim Trimble of the Third District has accepted an invitation to speak before a meeting of the Mississippi Valley Flood Control Association at New Orleans, Nov. 1.

Congressman Trimble is a member of the committee on public works, which has jurisdiction of all matters concerning flood control and river harbor development.

Bed-Ridden Boy Thankful for Television

New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—An 11-year-old boy bed-ridden by infantile paralysis thanked the miracle of television today for proving his dog was alive.

Four nights ago Leonard Selman dreamed his dog Blackie was dead. He was inconsolable. He refused to believe his parents' assurances that a veterinarian had operated on Blackie but he was coming along fine.

Hospital rules prohibited animals so Mr. and Mrs. Selman couldn't bring the dog in. He was too weak to bark over the phone.

Then the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis got in touch with Television Station WPIX for a private telecast of Blackie.

Last night a television set was installed at the boy's bedside. It lit up and a small black dog looked out at Leonard quizzically.

"That's all I wanted to know," said Leonard thankfully.

Peru's estimated 482,254 square miles of territory lie wholly within the tropics.

Continue Search for Woman Who Fell From Train

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 27 (AP)—Officials here today continued their investigation of the reported fall of a 32-year-old woman from a moving train near here yesterday.

Mrs. Ruth Cooney, Chicago, was in Stuart Memorial hospital here with a broken left arm and severe cuts and bruises over her head and body. Sheriff Luntie Futrell said the woman told him "she was pushed from the Louisville and Nashville's crack Georgian about 10 miles north of here."

In Atlanta, however, L. & N. officials who declined to be quoted, said they believed the woman fell accidentally when she opened the wrong door.

Futrell said Mrs. Cooney, en route to Atlanta on a vacation, told him she had taken one drink with a sailor and mariner both en route to Parris Island, S. C.

A three-year-old son of Mrs. Cooney, Robert Cooney, Jr., continued the train trip to Atlanta under custody of the conductor and was met by his grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Bush.

Planetoids or tiny planets were named, according to one theory, by the explosion of a larger, primitive planet.

German Girl to Be Deported for Illegal Marriage

Macon, Ga., Oct. 27 (UP)—A German girl and the American soldier she married illegally were ordered separated by a federal judge today, she to return to Germany and he to spend a year and a day in prison.

Kaethe Schlompp, 27, pleaded that she be allowed to go to the electric chair rather than back to her homeland. But Federal Judge Frank M. Scarlett ordered her deported as an alien who entered the country illegally.

Paul Mayer, the young Alibany, Ga., ex-soldier, was sentenced to a prison term on his plea of guilty to harboring an alien.

In 1944, the girl told Scarlett, she married a German soldier who was sent to Russia and never returned. She said she attempted to win a divorce, but could not locate him.

Mayer met Kaethe while he was in the army in Europe.

Fans to Accompany Cats to Hot Springs

The Hope Bobcats will board a bus at 2 p.m. Friday and journey to Hot Springs for a non-conference tilt with Joe Diddy's Trojans.

The Cats will go directly to Hunter's Tourist Homes, 642 Ouachita Ave., and will take meals before and after the game at Hotel Como.

The team will leave aboard a special Dixie Trailways bus at 5 p.m. and Arkansas Motor Coach is running a bus for the fans.

Although the game has no bearing on conference standings a loss for the Bobcats would mar their record of no defeat and no ties and lose considerable prestige.

Hot Springs has lost five straight games and are anxious to taste victory. Although Coach Joe Diddy is meaning the blues about injuries to his regulars, the Cats know they will be in for a rough night.

Hope also has its share of injuries and regular guard Don Duffie is nursing an injury at all. McGee is nursing an injury at all. McGee is nursing an injury at all.

Roger Neal and Wesley Huddleston. About the only bright spot is the return of Captain Sam Westbrook to the lineup. Sam was out for a week with a kidney injury in the Jonesboro game and has not seen action since.

Many hundreds of Hope fans will follow the trip to Hot Springs. Tickets to the game at Hot Springs will be sold at the school, Jack's Newsstand and Anderson's office for 85c. Student tickets, to be purchased at the gate, are 50c.

The race for championship honors in Arkansas high school football's Big Six division will be drawn tighter or will be thrown wide open tomorrow (Fri) night.

Little Rock and North Little Rock, the only two teams with perfect division records, both have very tough assignments away from home.

The Tigers of Little Rock must take on a rebounding El Dorado aggregation which only a week ago defeated Pine Bluff from the underdog ranks of the state.

Due to early season losses El Dorado has little chance of winning the title itself, but it may have much to say about who does.

North Little Rock's Wildcats will go against Pine Bluff, with the Zebras needing a win to stay in the running.

Other Big Six teams will play non-division games. For Smith Hill host to Muskogee, Okla.

And Springfield, which hasn't won a game since its opener, will entertain the undefeated, untied Hope Bobcats, district Seven Double-A leaders who were voted the State's No. 1 team this week.

Two important Class AA games are on the schedule. Van Buren will try to hold undisputed possession of first place in District One by beating Harrison at Van Buren.

Down in District Seven, Smackout will be at Camden for a game in which both teams are seeking to stay close to Hope.

In Class A, Helena visits Stuttgart for a game which may go a long way toward deciding the sixth district crown.

Other games include (district games indicated in parentheses): Springdale at Rogers (IAA).

Prescott at Texarkana. Magnolia at DeQueen (7A).

Gordon at Arkadelphia (7A). Eudora at Fayetteville (4A).

Hannegan Seeks New Talent

St. Louis, Oct. 27 (AP)—Bob Hannegan has been seeking the league trade marts in search of talent for his St. Louis Cardinals but hasn't been able to arrange any deals.

Returning from a trip to New York, the Cardinal president said today that he had talked to representatives of several clubs about possible trades.

The Chicago Cubs are willing to trade Eddie Waikus and the Cards would like to have him but no deal has been arranged, Hannegan said.

"The Giants will give up Johnny Mize and Walker Cooper, but we're interested in younger players," he said. The New York club made it plain that Outfielders Carroll Leach, Bob Thomson and Willard Marshall are not for trade, Hannegan said.

"I talked with Horace Stoneman of the Giants, Branch Rickey of the Dodgers, Jim Gallagher of the Cubs and with the Pittsburgh club," Hannegan continued.

"They all want pitchers. Except for the Cubs, who have stated they'll give up the Pirates plainly state that they want pitchers, but want to buy them, not trade for them."

"The talks largely were an exchange of ideas. Everybody's shopping around, seeking information as to the players available. I told all of them all I was interested in talking trade and would make any deal I thought would benefit the Cardinals."

"The way it looks though, most of the Cubs will wait until the December meeting before making any deals."

To Ask Extra Money for Marshall Plan

By STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, Oct. 28 — (AP) — Foreign aid officials said today they expect to ask Congress for an extra $1,200,000,000 to carry the Marshall plan through April, May and June of next year.

The $5,055,000,000 appropriation for European recovery will have been exhausted by the end of March — 12 months after the program's start — a spokesman for the Economic Cooperation Administration reported privately.

Congress voted the recovery money for 15 months, or until the end of the federal fiscal year next June 30 but gave President Truman the power to let ECA use it up in 12 months if necessary.

At ECA it was said the president's formal approval of the 12-month schedule may be asked within the next two weeks.

As early as last August, Mr. Truman said a supplemental appropriation of $1,500,000,000 might be needed for the last three months of the program's first phase.

The ECA spokesman said the new estimate of $1,200,000,000 is as close as the need can be gauged at this minute.

In any event, the prospect of further foreign aid outlays has focused new attention on the attitude of Congress toward next year's Marshall plan appropriation. CA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman has said that, because of Europe's marked progress thus far, less money is needed in the second year of what has been projected as a four-year underlaking.

A private weekly report for businessmen in the Marshall plan letter, reported today that 94 percent of the senators and representatives who answered a news letter poll have adopted a "favorable" position toward the Marshall plan in the election campaign.

Sixty-one per cent said they think next year's regular appropriation should be $4,000,000,000 or more, the news letter said. Of those, eleven per cent answered "whatever needed," 15 per cent said $5,000,000,000, eleven per cent $5,000,000,000 and 24 per cent $4,000,000,000. The replies ranged on down to nothing at all.

The publication noted, however, that the replies to its questionnaire (a) Represent less than a majority of the House and Senate memberships and (b) indicate that most legislators will be sharply critical of the effect ERP is having on high prices in this country if they are re-elected.

Damage Suit Against Wealthy Turfman

Camden, N. J. Oct. 27 — (AP) — A $2,000 damage suit filed against William G. Helis, New Orleans millionaire turfman, was being tried in U. S. District court today.

The Helis Stock Farms, Jobs, town, N. J., is charged with failure to deliver 100 steers and 211 cows and heifers in accordance with an oral agreement.

Daniel Gottlieb and his three sons contend that Joseph Loper, manager of the Helis farms, agreed to sell him the cattle a few days before Nov. 13, 1946, for $22,400. Gottlieb testified that he already had agreed to resell the cattle to a Lancaster, Pa., cattle dealer.

Samuel P. Orlando, counsel for Helis, who was not in court yesterday said in an answer to the Gottlieb petition, that the Gottliebs were not entitled to the cattle since nothing was given to bind the bargain at the time of the alleged oral agreement.

A jury of eight women and four men was selected to hear testimony in the case.

Fifty-six per cent said they believe the program is contributing to inflation "to a large extent."

Wants More Control Over Armed Forces

By ELTON C. FAY
Washington, Oct. 28 — (AP) — Secretary of Defense Forrestal may suggest that Congress give his office firmer control over the three armed services in the unified but sometimes quarrelsome military establishment.

This possibility stood out today in the light of two public statements by members of Forrestal's official family—Secretary of the Army Royal and Army Chief of Staff Omar Bradley. Both expressed their views in Navy Day speeches.

Royal said at Baltimore "we have found out where unification is not working" and where changes are needed. Then he asserted:

"There is need of unequivocal and authoritative direction and command at the top, and this must be given by statute."

Bradley was more blunt. He said at Des Moines last night:

"If the armed services are to retain the trust and confidence of the American people then they must put an end to their dog-cat-dog contests for a part of the taxpayer's dollar."

There was no immediate formal comment from Forrestal's office on the Royal or Bradley expressions. However, it was learned that the cabinet officer and his legal advisers have been quietly exploring the question of whether the defense secretary needs something more than just authority to "coordinate" the activities of the army, navy and air force.

Royal's comment on the need for "unequivocal" direction was interpreted in some quarters to mean that he is plugging anew for an idea first advanced by the army when the unification bill was being drafted in 1945 and 1946.

That idea calls for the appointment of a top chief of the joint chiefs of staff with full authority to rule on arguments in that body. The joint chiefs of staff consist of the commanders of the army, navy, air force and the chief of staff to the president.

The position of chief of staff to the president was created at the direction of the late President Roosevelt.

Congress stepped carefully around the question of whether it should be continued. The National Security (Unification) Act defines the joint chiefs of staff as the military heads of the three services and the chief of staff to the commander-in-chief "if there be

McMath to 'Feel Out' Tax Setup

Booneville, Oct. 28 — (UP) — Gov. Designate Sid McMath was preparing to move into other sections of the state today in an effort to determine legislative reaction to a new plan for reassessing property in Arkansas.

Meeting with northwestern Arkansas members of the House of Representatives here yesterday, the Hot Springs prosecutor revealed a proposal calling for creation of a state appraisal board to assist county assessors in the evaluation of property. Legislators here believed the plan would work.

The proposal, if approved by the 1949 general assembly, is designed to allow the equalization of property assessments without the loss of votes to county assessor.

McMath said that under the one.

There has been only one so far, Admiral William D. Leahy. And Leahy said at Indianapolis yesterday he expects to give up that job this winter, no matter who is elected president.

plan a state appraisal board — composed of 12 qualified persons — would be created under the tax division of the Public Service Commission. The board's services would be available to any county whose assessor or property owners petitioned for aid. The agency would not be authorized to enter a county unless requested by the people. Reassessments made by the board would be final unless appealed to chancery court.

"I believe this is a good plan," said McMath. "It is worth consideration."

Following the meeting McMath said none of the legislators voiced any objection to his proposed bond issues for a highway construction and improvement program.

Rep. Designate C. C. Davis of Fort Smith said "I have discussed the bond proposal in seven counties and I have yet to find a person who objects to it."

After determining that all legislators would probably approve the bond proposal if assured that it would be free of graft, McMath said that all legal work except that of bond approving lawyers would be transacted without extra charge by the attorney general.

In other action McMath told the legislators that he hopes to add $4,500,000 to sales tax revenue — chiefly for old-age pensions — by tightening the methods of collection.

"That's the only available source of new money for pensions right now," he said. "It will not increase pensions to the national average of $32 per month, but it will greatly relieve the situation."

The Democratic nominee for governor also indicated that he would ask the legislature to increase salaries of the state revenue commissioner and heads of other departments in order to obtain competent men.

He has scheduled a similar conference in Jonesboro Nov. 10 and plans two other meetings with legislators in other sections of the state.

McMath Confers With Members of Legislature

Booneville, Oct. 27 — (AP) — Arkansas' apparent next governor interviewed collectively and individually some of the men who will comprise the 1949 legislature here today.

Sid McMath, the Democratic nominee for governor, met with 21 members-designate of the House of Representatives at the Arkansas Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

The 21 are from Western and Northwestern Arkansas counties. McMath talked privately to members of the group after a general session.

He said he was seeking their ideas on state affairs and on his legislative program, including highways, reorganization of the state revenue department and revision of tax and election laws.

McMath said he would try to meet as many other legislators as possible before he takes office in January.

Other meetings similar to the one today have been planned for Camden, Jonesboro and Little Rock.

Truman Takes Campaign to New England

By JOSEPH NOLAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

President Truman trooped into New England today alerting the voters against "poll happy" Republicans who he said are trying to pull them to sleep with predictions of a lopsided victory.

Meanwhile, there were angry charges of "mud-slinging" and "reckless abuse" against the president from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. The GOP nominee reaffirmed his pledge not to be drawn into personal political bickering as the campaign nears its climax.

With an eye cocked on the 28 electoral votes in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, Mr. Truman planned to slump the area's major industrial cities by train and by automobile in a two-day bid for support. He speaks in Boston tonight, while Dewey addresses a gathering in Cleveland.

Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin, who rode into Massachusetts on the presidential train, predicted that the state would go Democratic by 100,000 votes.

Tobin, a former Bay State governor, estimated that Mr. Truman has 200 electoral votes in the bag and a good chance of grabbing another 100 in the northern industrial states. It takes 206 electoral votes to win the presidency.

In his Cleveland speech last night, the president lambasted public opinion polls as part of a Republican "design" to prevent a big vote next Tuesday.

"These polls," he said, "are like sleeping pills designed to lull the voters into sleeping on election day. You might call them sleeping pills."

Mr. Truman said he wanted to let the voters "in on a secret." "We have the Republicans on the run," he said.

Replied Dewey's campaign manager, Herbert Brownell, Jr.: "That is certainly the best-kept secret in all history."

The question is the Dewey camp was whether the GOP nominee should reply to the president's "sleeping pills" jibe on his Cleveland address tonight. At the outset of his speech last night in Chicago, Dewey accused his Democratic rival of spreading "fantastic fears among the people."

Mindful of his own promise to refrain from "vituperation and abuse," Dewey told his audience "that is the kind of campaign I refuse to wage and I never will."

"You're too good an American," shouted a galleryite. "That's right," shot back Dewey, "and I always will be. After the elections, regardless of how we voted, we will all pull together as a great, friendly people."

Elsewhere in politics: Wallace — Henry A. Wallace told a New York rally his Progressive party prevented World War III. He pledged to carry on after the election and predicted that his party eventually would force the Democrats and Republicans to merge.

Senate — spokesmen for the Senate elections subcommittee denied Democratic charges that their investigation into three Senate races is part of a "smear" campaign. The states involved are Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. Chairman William E. Jenner, R., Ind., said the Democratic member of the subcommittee was merely "hollering wolf" when he said the Oklahoma inquiry was started without his knowledge. The subcommittee is looking into GOP charges that Democrats planned a "gross fraud" in the Senate contest in a fourth state, Tennessee.

Labor — the AFL and CIO may consider joining forces on the political front to build up a stronger Democratic party after the election, according to informed sources in Washington. The prospects of political unity reportedly were discussed at a recent meeting between Jack Kroll, director of the CIO Political Action Committee, and George M. Harrison, director of the AFL's political league.

Running mates — Republican vice presidential nominee Earl Warren said the same issues are facing both parties, but only the Republicans can get together on the answers. As an example, he cited for a San Diego crowd the unanimous nomination of Gov. Dewey for the presidency. In Patterson, N. J., Democratic vice presidential candidate Alben W. Barkley denounced the 80th Congress for ignoring President Truman's request for a higher minimum wage and for federal aid to education.

Fate of Germany Is Still Undecided — a Subject That Has Taken Strange Turns

By GEORGE BRIA
(For Dewitt MacKenzie)
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Berlin — A newspaper cartoon shows four giant soldiers sprawling in the ruins of a city. A tiny bespectacled man stands on the outskirts.

"Pardon?" he asks timidly. "Where is the German sector?"

The cartoon published this summer is out of date. For a "German sector," born of East-West strife, has grown in the mind if not the body of Germany.

It reached its climax early in September in demonstration of 230,000 Germans against the Russians in Berlin. Some of them stoned the gigantic Soviet war memorial commemorating the Red Army sweep from Stalingrad to the heart of Germany.

One man defied bullets to climb on the Brandenburg Tor and plant the Red flag. It was a plain red flag and not the official Soviet hammer, but only a pedant would quarrel with the difference.

Even a year ago such a hostile demonstration against one of the occupying powers would have been hard to conceive. Today the mind West lines that the outbreak was hailed by Western supporters as a defiant cry of freedom, and by the Russians as an attack of Fascist gangsters.

Who was right? Neither side, entirely. More accurately, the demonstration can be defined as the greatest sign to date of the rising tide of a new German nationalism.

Few experienced observers of the German scene would venture to say that the misadventure had entirely rubbed off the taint of Nazism and militarism and, in three short years, become peace-loving freemen.

On the other hand, most agree that the Germans are displaying a greater show of independence in the zones controlled by the British and Americans. From Joseph Cardinal Frings in Cologne to Socialist Franz Neumann in western Berlin, the cry is Germany for the Germans.

The rebirth has been nursed along by official British and American policy. A high point came last spring when British military Governor Sir Brian Robertson lifted the few remaining official bans on social intercourse and called the Germans "Christians."

Thus, three years after the smashing of Hitlerism, the Germans became socially accepted. The French, fearful of any sign of German revival, still treat them as an inferior conquered people and base their policy on long term occupation and re-education.

The Russians, although they plump for withdrawal of all occupation forces and for "German unity," also frown socially on the Germans. The unified Germany they seek is a Communist Germany.

So far, the spiritual rebirth of the Germans poses the greatest threat to the Russians. The mass of Germans are largely anti-Russian and admit they want a crack at the anti-Communist German people. They want a crack at the Russians.

This raises the question of how, if it should come to an East-West war, would the Germans do any fighting. Will there be a German Army?

In setting up the west German state there are no known plans for a war office, or even a foreign office. The question of rearming the Germans never is mentioned publicly, but it is in the background of everyone's thoughts.

For, aside from the material aid such a force could furnish the West, it obviously is difficult to conceive of rebuilding western Germany economically without also providing the Germans with the means for defending their gains.

This explains French aversion to the idea of rearming Germany. For the new nationalistic spirit today takes a different turn tomorrow in is pointed against Russia may take a different turn tomorrow in the surprise bag of history.

is to provide American and Canadian military guarantees for non-Communist Europe, with the western European union as a nucleus. The "union" countries are Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, and Luxembourg.

As part of this broad undertaking, defense department officials already are working with European military experts on plans for a program of mutual military help.

The council of the western European military command of the four allied ministers of the five nations, announced in Paris yesterday that it had reached complete agreement on the principle of a defensive pact for the North Atlantic and on the next steps to be taken in this direction.

The first of three next steps, Paris reported, will be to have the ambassadors of the five nations in Washington tomorrow formally ask the American government for such a treaty.

But, diplomatic informants here said today, the step will not be taken until after next Tuesday's presidential election.

Diplomatic officials who have been working on preparations for the alliance say they believe it is based on this country's bipartisan foreign policy and that the project will be carried forward whether President Truman or Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is elected.

The back for the work already done by Secretary Marshall, Under-Secretary Robert A. Lovett and other State Department officials was laid by the Senate last spring.

It adopted a resolution sponsored by Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the Foreign Relations Committee authorizing "a mission" of the United States, with other nations, which would advance this country's security.

John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, said today, while this resolution was in the Senate, he had already had a preliminary agreement with the United Nations, which would be the first step in the work.

In general, the alliance is planned as a regional defense arrangement under the United Nations charter, about the time of the 1947 "Four American" defense system when the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union agreed to act in the Western Hemisphere.

Ideal Weather Boon to Crop Harvesting

Little Rock, Oct. 27 — (UP) — Aided by ideal Indian summer weather, Arkansas farmers made good in the harvest of corn and sorghums also was well along, except in some of the Eastern counties where cotton picking is first priority.

Seeding of oats and winter cover crops is in full swing except in some areas which still are too dry. Large acreages of these crops are up to good stands and getting off to a favorable start.

Cotton picking continued at a fast pace. Some heavy producing areas need additional pickers, although most gins are operating at capacity. Most of the cotton is open and one picking will get the entire crop in some fields.

The harvest continues as fast as drying and storage facilities permit and is about 83 per cent complete. Increased use of combines and dry weather during harvest enabled Arkansas planters to make record time in saving the state's largest rice crop.

Combining of soybeans is well along with yields per acre being above average.

The harvest of a good peanut crop is about over.

Digging of sweet potatoes has proceeded rapidly since the killing frosts of Oct. 18 and 19. The crop is good in most areas although reduced by dry weather in some counties.

The apple harvest is about over. A good crop of peaches has been produced, and the nuts are dropping rapidly since recent frosts.

Meyer Voted the Manager of the Year

New York, Oct. 27 — (AP) — William Adam (Bill) Meyer today was voted the "manager of the year" in a nation-wide poll conducted by the Associated Press.

The 56-year-old freshman pilot of the Pittsburgh Pirates nosed out Billy Southworth, leader of the National League champion Boston Braves in a neck and neck race.

Meyer received 59 votes to 57 for the veteran World Series campaigner.

In all, 220 baseball experts took part in the voting. Besides Meyer and Southworth, Lou Boudreau, Joe McCarthy, Burt Shotton, Steve O'Neill, Buckey Harris and Connie Mack received scattered support.

Boudreau, who piloted the Cleveland Indians to their first American league pennant in 28 years, and then led them to the world championship, ranked third with 50 votes. McCarthy, whose Boston Red Sox bowed to the Indians in an unprecedented playoff for the flag, was fourth with 19 votes.

Harris, released manager of the New York Yankees, was selected as the No. 1 pilot by three shreds as the No. 1 pilot by three shreds. The others each got one vote.

Meyer received the No. 1 rating because of the outstanding job he did in leading the Pirates to the fourth place finish after having them in flag contention until the final two weeks of the season. He took over a club that finished in a tie for the cellar last year with the Philadelphia Phils.

Alabama Not to Carry Truman

Washington, Oct. 27 — (UP) — Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama gave up hope today of getting President Truman's name on the state ballot in time for Tuesday's election.

Alabama is the only state in which the Truman-Barkley slate will not appear on the ballot.

But Folsom said he is confident that Alabamians will be voting for the regular Democratic ticket, even though they think they are casting a ballot for the States Rights Democrats. He said a state law held that electors must vote for the candidates nominated by their party's national convention.

Folsom came to Washington hoping to be able to appeal directly to the supreme court. Attorneys advised him, however, that the court does not have original jurisdiction in the case.

The Alabama governor, who favors Mr. Truman's election, said he would file his case in federal court in Alabama after the election.

Although the names of States Rights Candidate J. Strom Thurmond and his running mate, Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi, appear under the roster, symbol of the Democratic party in the state, Folsom contends that the Truman-Barkley slate is the only legally selected ticket.

He said he does not question the right of the Thurmond-Wright ticket to a state of electors, but he said they should go about it legally.

Col. Ira B. Thompson, Folsom's legal adviser and William J. Primm Jr., assistant to Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath, denied a report that the Alabama election law cited by Folsom had been held unconstitutional by the state supreme court.

They explained that Folsom had requested an advisory opinion from the court last April. The court suggested that the law was unconstitutional. But that advisory opinion was not a decision and had no effect on the statute, according to Thompson and Primm.

sleep last night, the Pittsburgh Pirates' Billy Meyer complained good-naturedly and tried to tell how he felt about being named baseball's manager of the year.

"It is one of the finest honors," he began. There was a near-silent interval in which he mumbled, "I'm kinda knocked over about it."

Getting a fresh start, Billy declared:

"I think it a marvelous thing that the Baseball Writers of America have bestowed such an honor on me."

"I have felt that a fellow who wins the pennant should have it. Since the Pirates didn't win, I think it a greater honor that they have chosen me. I'm deeply appreciative."
